

WATER FOOD CHAINS

A food chain shows what different animals eat. It shows which animals are dependent on each other to survive. Carnivores are often at the top of the food chain and they are known as Predators. Animals that only eat living plants are called Herbivores. All food chains start with plants or plant material. A more complex food chain is called a food web.

Follow the food chain and food web below and put a tick against the animals you have seen. Have you caught all the animals to create a food chain and/or food web.
